DESTROYER McFARLAND WITH HOLE TORN NEAR BOW BY BATTLESHIP

This remarkable photo of the damaged destroyer McFarland was taken by a Boston American staff photographer. The destroyer was rammed by the dreadnaught Arkansas in a heavy fog during night manoeuvres off Cape Cod. The picture shows the gaping hole cut in the destroyer's side by the warship's prow. The destroyer was almost cut in two. Scores of sailors on the destroyer were nearly drowned in oil released from bursted tanks. The destroyer was one of a fleet of twelve taking part in the drill. Heroic conduct of the crew alone averted a heavier death toll.

New Burner Burns Oil In Any Stove—Cheaper Than Coal or Wood

A wonderful new burner which works in any coal or wood stove is the proud achievement of the International Heating Company, 115 So. 14th Street, Dept. 3396, St. Louis, Mo. This remarkably simple and inexpensive invention heats stove and oven in half the time and does away with all the dirt, ashes and drudgery of using coal or wood. It gives one of the hottest and quickest fires known, controlled by a simple valve. It is absolutely safe and can be put into any stove in a few minutes. The manufacturers offer to send this remarkable invention on 30 days' trial to any reader of this paper. They want agents. Write them today.—Advertisement.

NAVY COURT PROBES DESTROYER CRASH

A probe of the Cape Cod naval manoeuvers disaster in which the Destroyer McFarland was rammed by the super-dreadnaught Arkansas, killing one sailor and injuring 30 more, was underway at the navy yard today. Blame for the crash will be fixed.

A board of inquiry was named to take testimony on board the Arkansas on Monday. It will be in charge of Captain Oswald Johnson, commander of the battleship Utah and senior officer afloat. Witnesses will be taken from the navy yard to the Arkansas on the destroyer Sturvesant, sister ship of the McFarland.

Among those who will testify will

GAMBLERS' INDICTED IN R. I.

Sixty Society Women of Newport and Narragansett Pier Before the Grand Jury

Providence, Sept. 20.—Following testimony of sixty society women, residents of Newport and Narragansett Pier, the South County grand jury today indicted eighteen men on charges of gambling and keeping gambling resorts.

Among those indicted were Henry C. Johnson, proprietor of the "Hummocks," a clambake resort at Hamilton; William H. Smith, said to be part owner of Elm Cottage at the Pier, recently raided; Phillip Bausch, manager of the National Athletic Club at Marieville, North Providence; James Finan, owner of the Surf Hotel at Narragansett Pier, and John C. Joyce, said to be part owner of the Elm Cottage and another resort in the Clark Block at the Pier, raided at the same time the Elm Cottage was visited.

Following the raid, Joyce was arrested charged with being a common gambler. At his trial before Judge Watts in Wakefield Court, Assistant Attorney-Generals Hurley and De Pasquale became so incensed at the procedure in the case they dropped prosecution and informed the court they would clean up gambling by means of a Grand Jury investigation.

Indictments today resulted

Before the jury which investigated the evidence appeared Mrs. Reba Robinson, millionaire Philadelphia resident, who maintains a sumptious cottage at the Pier. She also testified at the Joyce trial. Other millionaire women residents came from the Pier and Newport to give testimony.

Some of the indicted men were former saloonkeepers in this city.

'BLACKMAIL' BY PETERS DISPROVEN

Witnesses Show Slain Youth Never Saw Millionaire Before Day of Shooting

White Plains, N. Y., Sept. 20.—The State today by undisputed evidence shattered Walter S. Ward's story of blackmail as the reason for his slaying Clarence S. Peters former Haverhill, Mass., marine, the night of May 15, 1922.

It was proved, beyond doubt, that Peters on May 15 was not in New York city or Westchester County more than nine hours before he was shot to death.

The claim of Ward made in his "confession" a week after the shooting, was that Peters and two men of mystery—"Jack" Rogers and "Charlie" Ross—attempted to blackmail him for $75,000 the night before Peters met his death.

WIFE SITS WITH WARD.

Ward and his wife, Mrs. Beryl Curtis Ward, came into court together today. She took her seat beside him and they chatted, both smiling, until court formally opened.

Ward wore a new brown suit—the fourth since the opening of the trial. Mrs. Ward was attired, as on previous days, in a tailored one-piece blue dress, a small hat, and heavy furs.

Attorney-General Sherman was

HARD COAL PRODUCTION 60 P. C. BELOW NORMAL

KEPT GIRL IN COOP IS CHARGE; IS FREED

Chicago, Sept. 20.—The case against J. J. Smith, alleged to have compelled an eleven-year-old girl to live in a hencoop, was dismissed at La Grange yesterday by Justice of the Peace Walter Hamilton on the grounds there was not sufficient evidence to hold him. The girl, Margaret Melton, has been taken to her uncle's home in New York.

WARD'S BLACKMAIL STORY SHATTERED BY STATE WITNESSES

PROVE IT WAS IMPOSSIBLE FOR PETERS TO HAVE BEEN WITH OTHER 'PLOTTERS'

not in court. Wilbur Chambers, an assistant, conducting the case for the State. Sherman was with the Grand Jury meeting to investigate the charge of alleged Ward family "conspiracy to defeat justice." Several of Ward's friends are reported involved in the alleged plot.

Raymond A. Hill, a deputy sheriff of Westchester County, was the first witness of the day. Hill is a finger-print expert.

He identified photographs of Peters and copies of the dead man's finger prints, which he made.

On cross-examination, Hill revealed that Peters had a police record in Boston, producing finger prints taken there when Peters was convicted of the theft of an automobile. It was with these finger prints that Hill said he had identified Peters' body, five days after it was found.

The defence lawyers showed they felt they had scored a point in branding Peters as a "man with a record."

ATTACK WARD'S STORY.

But, immediately thereafter, came the shattering blows at Ward's blackmail story.

Harvey Sutherland, a railroad ticket agent at Paris Island, S. C., proved by his records that he sold Peters a railroad ticket from his station to Philadelphia shortly after noon on May 14, 1922.

Henry Miller, a veteran railway conductor, identified this same ticket as the one surrendered by Peters at the West Philadelphia Station of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad at 12:27 o'clock on the afternoon of May 15.

Previous testimony by coroner's physicians had shown Peters whose body was found on the Westchester County highway at 7:30 a. m., May 16, had been dead at least six or seven hours.

Other witnesses were called to show Peters, arriving in Philadelphia at a half hour after noon could not have reached New York in less than three hours—3 o'clock on the day he met his death.

STATE SCORES HEAVILY.

The State thus accomplished its purpose of proving that it was some time after this hour that Ward for the first time in his life, ever saw or heard of Peters, and consequently could not have been the victim of any such blackmail plot as he had charged in his "confession."

Lynn S. Mayo, sergeant of marines stationed at Paris Island, testified that Peters did not leave the island while he was there, between April 28 and May 14, 1922. He said Peters was put to work painting.

To clear up charges made by the defence that the prosecution had coached witnesses, Justice Wagner today ordered the recall to the witness stand of Harry J. Greene and Ralph Collins State troopers, who had testified to circumstances of the discovery of the body of Peters the morning of May 16, 1922.

Charges of coaching followed Collins' admission that he had conversed with Greene during a luncheon interval in Greene's testimony.

MYSTERY IN COURT.

The summary ejection of a tall, dark stranger from the packed courtroom created a mystery which was heightened today by the presence of scores of detectives, official and private, scattered among the hundreds of persons who clamored for admission to the trial.

The mystery was intensified because to those that asked Justice Robert F. Wagner who the man was and why he was ousted without explanation, the Justice replied, "That is a highly improper question." It was by the Justice's order that that stranger was ousted.

ACCUSE WALTON AS DESPOT IN KLAN WAR

Oklahoma City, Okla., Sept. 20—Events in Oklahoma moved today toward a show-down between Governor J. C. Walton and members of the State Legislature over the executive's exercise of authority and his war on the Ku Klux Klan and mob floggers.

A call for an extraordinary session of the lower House to consider a series of charges that Governor Walton has taken onto himself the powers of a despot and has supplanted constitutional government with a dictatorship was issued this morning.

The call, made public by W. D. McBee, Representative from Stephens County, bore the names of forty House members, with the promise that during the day the list would grow to fifty-four, constituting a majority of the House.

Noon of next Wednesday is the hour fixed for the assembling of the lawmakers.

DO NOT FEAR GOVERNOR.

Representative McBee declared that he anticipated no attempt by the Governor to carry out his threat to jail legislators in the event that they convened.

"The folly of attempting to carry out his threat to arrest members has been made apparent to him. He realizes that the call is legal and cannot be forestalled," McBee asserted.

At almost the same moment the legislative call was promulgated, Governor Walton appealed to the people of the State in a proclamation to repudiate the attempt of the lawmakers to assemble, charging that those sponsoring the movement are "Klan members" of the legislature, "inspired by the invisible empire and aided by the Klan press."

"BEATING WALTON TO IT."

It was asserted by Representative McBee that Governor Walton, in conjunction with Murray F. Gibbons, Speaker of the House, was contemplating the issuance of a call for a special session "in a last desperate effort, with the hope that some of the boys might be won over to his cause by a show of desire to remedy a situation that he has created." McBee released the call drawn by House members, he explained, "to beat the Governor to it."

If the special session of the House is convened the members present would sit as grand jurors to hear the evidence against the Governor. Should impeachment be voted, the case would go to the Senate, which would be required to convene and act as a court.

To Wed Banker

MISS ETHEL K. ROBERTSON.

She hands out monthly statements and a dazzling smile to the customers of the Industrial Trust Co. of Providence. Her smile won her boss, Earl Crawford, assistant secretary of the bank and a former football star. They will be married in a day or two.

HER SMILE WON A BANKER FOR A HUSBAND

Providence, Sept. 20.—Romance isn't dead nor is it confined to fiction magazines.

Earl S. Crawford, banker here, will, between now and Sunday, marry a clerk in his bank.

She is Ethel K. Robertson, twenty years old and beautiful. She lives at No. 111 Laura street.

She has been in charge of the statement department of the Industrial Trust Company. Crawford is assistant secretary of the bank.

FORMER GRID STAR.

Not so many years ago he cavorted on the gridiron at Brown University. He was one of the moleskin stars of his day. Also a shot putter. Beauties ought to know Earl Crawford. He married one. They were divorced four years ago. Since leaving college Crawford has taken up golf. He was champion of the Silver Spring Golf Club in 1918. He is a bowling champ, also driver of fast automobiles and a horseman.

It was on bridle paths he wooed Miss Robertson, friends say. She has ridden horses for years. Possessed of a dazzling smile the bride to be has been popular with the bank's customers for years.

Her interest in her boss followed his daring rescue of an aged woman from a fire in December of last year. Providence newspapers featured this act of heroism. Next morning Miss Robertson congratulated her boss, with tears in her eyes. It appeared she knew the woman he had rescued.

HONEYMOON BY AUTO.

"We'll be married in a day or two," said Mr. Crawford today, "but where and by whom is a secret. Our honeymoon destination is also secret. But it is true that we are planning a three weeks' automobile trip."

"Is it true you wear violent neckties and that your bride-to-be was once a toe dancer?" the banker was asked.

"Miss Robertson has appeared on the stage, but as to my ties—well, she thinks they are splendid."

Mr. Robertson is a member of the Chamber of Commerce, chairman of the finance committee of the Providence Safety Council, belongs to the Providence Central Club and the following orders: St. Andrew Chapter, St. John's Commandery and Palestine Temple.

N.Y. PUBLISHERS REFUSE TO DEAL WITH STRIKERS

New York, Sept. 20.—Curtailed metropolitan newspapers—in size and editions—loomed as a possibility for an indefinite period today when New York newspaper publishers called off all dealings with the 3,000 striking pressmen who walked out early Tuesday morning.

Basing their action upon the declaration of George L. Berry, international president of the pressmen's union, who branded the strike "outlaw," the newspaper owners have served notice upon Berry that they will not "deal with the defiant New York Web Pressmen's Union, Local No. 25, and would await his promised action to revoke the charter of this local union and to charter a legal union."

The statement of the publishers was to be presented to the striking pressmen this afternoon.

Pending Berry's decision, the publishers said they would continue to print papers as they are now doing—in combination morning and evening form.

These combinations are still in eight-page form and the only advertising is that of amusement houses.

Papers from Philadelphia and elsewhere are being rushed here, but only to a small degree are they filling the need of the millions of readers.

Fireman Patrick Twohig of the Everett Fire Department received a possible fracture of the skull, a fractured left hip, a fracture of the nose, and internal injuries, when he missed his step in leaving an automobile, and was run over by the car in which he had been riding. Together with other firemen, Twohig was waiting at Hancock street and Broadway, Everett, for a street car, when Wallace B. Littlefield, No. 3 Woodleigh street, Dedham, offered to take the men home in his automobile. As the car drew up in front of No. 349 Broadway, Everett, Twohig's home, Twohig started to get out of the car before it came to a complete stop. The car is a sport model with steps on the side instead of the customary running board. Twohig slipped under the wheels. He was carried into his home, and physicians called.

NAVAL COURT PROBES CRASH OF WARSHIPS

be Commander Harry Pence, officer in charge of the McFarland, who was on the bridge when the crash occurred, also Lt. Commander Finnebaum, executive officer of the rammed vessel. Commander Pence will be asked to produce the chart of his course.

Unofficially it was said at the yard that the McFarland would be junked. She was ripped so badly by the bigger ship she is beyond repair. A gaping wound forward of the bridge goes almost through the vessel above the water line and clear through it at the keel. Fog and rain brought on the accident.

Spencer W. Brown, from North Carolina, a second-class seaman aboard the McFarland, is the dead sailor. Two of the injured were officers.

Brown's body was recovered early this morning, after the McFarland had been floated into dry dock No. 1 in the navy yard.

According to Medical Examiner William J. Brickley, who viewed the body, Brown was probably crushed to death.

More than 200 workmen worked on the destroyer during the night removing bulkheads and clearing away debris in order to reach the body.

Fifty-four men of the crew of ninety-seven, were asleep in the forecame. A moment after the crash castle just before the crash they were hopelessly swimming in oil from the bursted tanks.

Two firemen, George Stack and A. M. Smith, swam to the bow with a rope which they made fast to a stanchion. The fifty-four trapped men followed the rope to safety.

Among the officers and men known to be injured are:

Lieutenant J. E. Whelchel, a former Annapolis football star. His injuries are believed to be minor. He occupied adjoining compartments with Lieutenant Jewett. The Arkansas plowed between the two officers' compartments and trapped them until the two vessels were separated. Lieutenant Jewett's injuries were also slight.

INJURED BROUGHT TO HUB.

Second Class Seaman Flora, and Third Class Gunner's Mates E. C. Long and Reilly, were taken aboard the destroyer Sturtevant, sister ship to the McFarland, and brought to Charlestown.

Boatswain's Mate W. W. Smith, Cooks Willis and Gibson, Coxswain McKenna, Seaman Branigan, Signal Mate Tandy and Second Class Yeoman Greenbee were brought to Charlestown aboard the crippled McFarland.

Five other injured men were taken aboard the Arkansas at the time of the collision. Fourteen other men, less seriously injured, remained aboard the McFarland. The injured men were all taken to the naval hospital at Chelsea.

THANKS to Mr. Eastman, of Rochester, and the wide, wide world, this country sees efficient and thorough development of musical talent. To help a nation in music is to help it intellectually. Music and intellect are sisters. Music arouses the brain, refreshes and stimulates it, as nothing else can do. Music is the only stimulant that has no "next day" of let-down and reaction.

MR. Eastman's school of music in the University of Rochester brings to the city and to the students of music the best musicians of the world and provides musical genius with a magnificent setting in a beautiful opera house, given to the city by Mr. Eastman and paying financial profit to no one.

Young people from all over the United States win scholarships that give them free teaching and $1000 a year for living expenses.

Thus one man's successes finds expression in a way that benefits an entire nation.

THE White Star and Cunard lines have a great combine and will run a joint trans-Atlantic service during the coming Winter instead of fighting each other for scanty traffic. That's common sense. And the British government will not interfere. Modern methods call for the biggest possible combinations in ALL lines.

"The bigger the better, but under public control," should be the program.

A. H. Smith, president of the New York Central, practical man understanding traffic problems, says that commuters from big cities will soon cause more trouble than the railroads have ever had because of intolerable congestion in suburban traffic. The railroads must decide to carry through passengers and neglect commuters or limit through traffic to take care of commuters.

DR. Harris, New York traffic expert, brings from Europe a suggestion that should interest Mr. Smith and everybody else.

"Build express automobile roads above the railroad tracks wherever that is possible," says Dr. Harris. Let the railroads charge a yearly sum for automobiles using the upper deck of the railroad.

NEW York Central tracks from New York to Albany, the Northwestern and St. Paul out of Chicago and many other railroads, particularly the Long Island Railroad in New York State, could each take care of hundreds of thousands of automobiles. Much of the commuting would go by automobile and motor bus and the railroads, quite properly, would get a return on all passengers and express matter thus carried.

Railroad tunnels, bridges, etc., could offer difficulties. But the thing could be done, and it might settle the railroad problem of making ends meet and meeting automobile competition.

TO the five thousand bankers soon to gather in Atlantic City—greeting and a word of advice.

Encourage and permit the government to run the postal savings banks on a generous, attractive basis.

Thus you will keep in the United States 75 per cent. of the hundreds of millions that immigrants now send to Europe, because they do not understand the soundness and safety of American savings and other banks. They would all trust the United States government and if encouraged, they would rather keep their savings here in good dollars than risk Europe's currency.

In the end, all these millions, having developed into intelligently handled capital, would go to the big banks. Encourage the little fellow from abroad to keep his money here. He will be your big customer later. Where his treasury is, his heart will be. Don't force him to lay up treasure in Europe.

THE mountain has gone to Mohammed. At least the British would say so. Baldwin, British prime minister, was in Paris yesterday consulting with Poincare about the Ruhr, which is Europe's cancer; about Fiume and Corfu, where Mussolini is demonstrating the power of a strong will, entirely surrounded by feeble uncertainty.

A LUCKY thing for Europe today is the unlimited diplomatic patience of the British. Cold carefully calculating, absolutely devoted to the empire that they represent, they look far ahead. They do not allow the difficulty or the invitation of the moment to endanger the great things, which is British imperial power in the future.

Next to that of the Vatican, the diplomacy of Great Britain is the ablest in Europe.

DR. SWOPE IS JAILED IN GAY GARB

BROCKTON PHYSICIAN ON WAY TO CELL

East Cambridge court was startled by the gay attire of Dr. Dalva H. Swope of Brockton when he surrendered himself to an indictment naming him as accessory in the suitcase murder. He wore a snappy dark business suit with a belted Cravanette coat. His hat was of velour of a rich creamy shade with a band of brown silk. In his buttonhole he sported a big purple aster. His attempt to appear nonchalant, however, was a failure.

POLICE SEEKING SECRET CAMP OF DR. ROBB

whose headless, butchered corpse was found stuffed into a pair of suitcases floating in the Merrimac River on September 1, were prepared, with their lawyers, to fight for freedom on bail.

SEEK SECRET CAMP.

While the court's machinery was functioning four State detectives were hurrying to Nashua to locate a man who said he saw Dr. Robb four miles outside Marlow on Saturday, September 8.

It is believed the man meant Saturday the first, the day the hacked corpse was found. Other detectives hunted a secret New Hampshire bungalow where, it is believed, the physician once driven from New Hampshire for malpractice, took patients to convalesce from operations.

Medical Examiner George B. Magrath meanwhile was making a pathological examination of Dr. Robb's automobile mat believed to be bloodstained. The physician had the mat washed when he stored his car in the Thre Level Garage, Springfield, a few days after the Tyngsboro mystery was blazed across newspapers.

RUN DOWN NEW CLEWS.

The bungalow, which, the police allege, Dr. Robb maintained in the vicinity of Newton Junction, N. H., has given the detectives more fruitless labor than any other feature of the case.

They have reason to believe that the head and pelvis, or at least the clothing of Mrs. Wonschendorf are hidden in or buried near this bungalow.

State Detective Richard Griffin of Haverhill, who is familiar with that region from boyhood, has been searching for several days to locate the camp.

Today he was joined by Detectives Stokes, O'Neil, Fleming and Ferrari, who left East Cambridge in an automobile and picked up Griffin at Haverhill.

They are under instruction to take up the search at Newton Junction.

Dr. Robb and Dr. Dalva H. Swope of Brockton, indicted as principals in the tragedy, left the East Cambridge pail for court today to fight for freedom.

Through attorneys they were prepared to wage a bitter battle that they be released on bail. Dr. Robb was indicted two days ago for murder, Dr. Swope as an accessory.

Mrs. Wolschendorf was last seen alive entering Dr. Robb's Massachusetts avenue office. She had previously visited Dr. Swope in Brockton for an examination into a condition that worried her.

After Dr. Magrath finishes his pathological study of the mat and clothing he will perform a second autopsy on the trunk, arms and limbs of the suitcase victim in an endeavor to learn whether death was natural or violent.

John P. Feeney, Boston criminal lawyer, is acting for Dr. Robb. Attorney James W. Murdock of Brockton for Dr. Swope.

Dr. Swope is dapper, with a horror for such crude places as cells. Dr. Robb is jaunty and not so finicky. Both appeared shaved and neatly garbed today. They have no particular fancy for being handcuffed and showed it as they moved from the jail to the courtroom.

Flesh and blood-stained clothing found near Chelsea street bridge, East Boston, and now at the Northern Mortuary, are being given scant attention by the suitcase investigators.

The members of the commission are, besides Mr. Rudderham, Edwin N. Dahlberg of Brockton, General William A. Pew of Salem, Major Albert T. Potter of Gardner, Charles J. Corkery of Cambridge and Major A. G. Reynolds of the adjutant-general's office.

PERTAINING TO THE AUTO

Every Saturday your Boston American carries large space devoted to the automobile, its progress, its care and valuable information concerning new vehicles and their outstanding characteristics. Further, there is a column devoted particularly to the questions and answers of owners who are frankly "up a tree" on some point or other. You are cordially invited to avail yourself of this information bureau. Ask "Mr. Fixit."

GIRL'S BODY FOUND IN HER ROOM

Beautiful Ethel Williams of Hollywood Set Slain With Knife or Scissors

Los Angeles, Sept. 20.—Covered with gaping stab wounds, the nude body of Ethel Williams, 25 years old, a cabaret singer, was found in her room in a lodging house here.

The police say that the young woman, who had been a prominent figure in the Hollywood set, had been repeatedly stabbed in the mouth and body by a dagger or a pair of scissors.

The room in which the body lay was in extreme disorder and the police believe that the girl struggled for some time before she fell exhausted from loss of blood to die.

OF STRIKING BEAUTY.

Asleep beside the body was her two-year-old son.

Miss Williams was a girl of striking beauty. It is said she came to Los Angeles a few years ago from the East, and quickly gained a large following among movie actors and directors.

She was known to have possessed a fortune in diamonds and other jewels, besides owning a pretentious bungalow in the exclusive residence district.

It is said that some time ago a foreign youth became enamored of the girl and lavished gifts on her.

But it is said her affections for that youth were evanescent, and she transferred them to an elderly man who, however, is not identified as being associated in any way with the moving picture industry.

FEAR JEALOUS WOMAN.

The police are also working on the theory that a jealous woman gained entrance to Miss Williams' room and stabbed her in a mad frenzy of jealousy.

A woman, who said she was a confidante of the cabaret performer, told the police that the victim was married and that in private life she was known as Mrs. Burt Williams.

The body was discovered by the landlady, Mrs. E. R. Crowder, who told the officers the dead singer had said she had "many enemies and not a friend in the world."

She had been preparing to take her child and go to Buffalo, Mrs. Crowder stated, to see an aunt.

Police said the absence of any weapon in the room ruled out the possibility of suicide. The woman was arrested a few weeks ago for a minor offence. The landlady said it was in connection with a check.

EMMY DESTINN WED TO CZECH AVIATOR

Prague, Ceecho-Slavakia, Sept. 20 (I.N.S.)—Emmy Destinn, grand opera singer, was married today to Capt. Halsbach, a Czech aviator. The ceremony took place at a nearby village in the presence of only a few friends and relatives. Capt. Halsbach will retire from the service. He is much younger than his wife.

WOULD DISMISS CASE AGAINST MOVIE STAR

STOKES IN AMAZING 'PLOT'

Underworld Combed for False Affidavits Against Her, Charges Wife

Chicago, Sept. 20 (Copyright, 1923, by Cosmopolitan News Service).—Pleading that her children be spared the ignomy of the scarlet stigma with which her millionaire husband seeks to brand her, Mrs. Helen Ellwood Stokes today presented to State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe evidence of an amazing conspiracy that has left a trail of gold, she says, through Chicago's underworld and has for its background a notorious South Side resort of other days, conducted by the Everleigh sisters.

Within an hour twenty-two subpoenas were issued and detectives set forth to seiez the records and correspondence of former Assistant States Attorney Richard E. Westbrooks and Edward Altz, private detective, said to be in the employe of Stokes.

A South Side physician who was connected with the Everleigh Club is also said to be wanted.

THOSE SUBPOENAED.

Subpoenas were issued for these persons:

Millie Phillips, No. 5417 Wabash avenue; Anna Johnson, Nellie Rose Miller, Louise Frierson, Julia Yancey, Benjamin and Lucy Harrison Louis E. Bynam, Wabash avenue; Lorraine Woods, Victoria Shaw, Bernice Hoyt, Thomas Flynn, a former police officer; A. K. Rouse, a private investigator; "Mary Doe," One Maymie Sherber, One Etta Wright, Lena Williams, Belle Bryant, One Agricola Byers, Georgie Spencer, otherwise known as Louise Jordan.

MRS. STOKE'S CHARGES.

Mrs. Stokes told State's Attorney Crowe, that Flynn, a former police officer, working in her interest, had uncovered evidence of the alleged plot.

"My husband, William Earl Dodge Stokes, has spent thousands of dollars in the underworld of Chicago to blacken me and disgrace my children," Mrs. Stokes said. "For two years he has been buying perjured affidavits from former inmates of the Everleigh Club, saying that I, was an inmate there several years ago.

"I have information that he paid a lawyer $2500 for procuring an affidavit from Mrs. Millie Phillips, a hair dresser, 'who swore she dressed my hair under compromising circumstances and within the last two months he has spent $1200 in a single evening in the home of a most notorious woman here to secure her aid in 'identifying' me as a former inmate of the club.

FOR "EASY MONEY."

"I have an affidavit from a former maid in the resort, whom Stokes engaged at a salary, to act as his guide to the scattered members of the old district and a well known character of the under world has admitted to another woman that she received $1,000 for her affidavit identifying me as 'Helen Norwood' of the club. She also approached another woman, urging her to 'get in on the easy money' my making a similar affdavit.

"I am entirely innocent. Every day of my thirty-six years can be accounted for without bringing a blush to my face or to the faces of my little children. I am a defenseless woman fighting alone against a crafty old man of millions."

"Madame, my instructions to Mr. Wharton are that he leave nothing undone that can be done by my office in getting at the bottom of this thing," said State's Attorney Crowe.

"If we find there has been a conspiracy in Cook County to suborn perjury and obstruct justice, the guilty will be punished."

ACCUSES HUSBAND OF BIG CONSPIRACY

MRS. HELEN ELWOOD STOKES

WASH BLANKETS TWICE YEARLY AT "LODGE"

Blankets used at the Wayfarers' Lodge on Hawkins street are washed only twice a year.

The normal patronage is about 5,000 men a year.

This was only one feature of unwholesome conditions found at city of Boston charitable homes by investigators of the Finance Commission.

These conditions, and recommendations for relief were set forth in a forty-page report to Mayor Curley, who requested the investigation more than a year ago.

At the Temporary Home for Women on Chardon street, West End, the investigators found no fumigating machine and no provision for disinfecting the bedding.

Sanitary conditions at the home were described as very bad, the use of the bathtub being practically impossible for old women.

For the year ending January 31 last, the total number of individual lodgers, including children, was 1,914. The average age of women received was fifty-five years.

At the Wayfarers' Lodge the report criticises the constant use of unsterilized blankets by different men night in and night out. The blankets get only two washings a year, the laundry work being done by Long Island and Deer Island inmates.

The zeal of the Overseers of the Poor is praised, and the commission recommends that the overseers be given funds and a staff to do 'follow up" work.

William H. Hardy, the secretary, and the only paid member of the board, is described as a "humane conscientious and efficient official. His duties are far too many for any one executive to handle effectively."

A number of recommendations and suggestions were made, looking to the improvement of conditions in the Home and the Wayfarers' Lodge.

DEFIES GOVERNOR IN MINE PROBE

Birmingham, Ala., Sept. 20 (AP)—Solicitor James G. Davis will proceed with his investigation of conditions at Banner Mines in spite of a letter from Governor Brandon in which the executive said an inquiry would not be tolerated, as sole authority rested with the Governor.

The solicitor began issuing summonses for newspaper men who interviewed convicts at the mines, following an outbreak on September 10. He said the warden and other officials would be called.

EX-BANKER, IN JAIL, FREED IN THEFT CASE

Joseph Kowal, former North End banker, who is serving one year in the House of Correction for larceny of funds from the firm of which he was president and treasurer, was found not guilty today by a jury in Suffolk County Superior Court of eleven additional counts of larceny.

Kowal was charged with appropriating funds from the firm he headed. With these funds it was charged he purchased the Hotel Eaton on Emery street, South Boston. It was charged he operated the hotel and kept the proceeds for his own use.

MILLIONAIRE WILL FIGHT DIVORCE

Newport Society Stirred by Crash of "Ideal Romance" of Young Dicksons

Newport, Sept. 20.—Roland Dickson, youthful Cincinnati and Chicago millionaire, will fight the attempt of his beautiful wife, Julia Sands Dickson, to gain a divorce.

Divorce papers were filed recently by the young woman who was once the reigning belle of ultra fashionable Newport. Today attorneys for the young husband, at the time of his marriage the "Best catch in the 400," announced their client would contest the suit. He has not been seen here since 1921.

Newport and Fifth avenue now sit back to await a sensation. What will Julia say of Paul? She charges cruelty. Did he actually beat her? Newport today can hardly believe that Julia Sands contemplates divorcing the handsome, youthful Paul. Their marriage was considered the most ideal ever performed among members of the smart set.

They were ideally mated, society said. Both had money, heaps of it; both had position, appearance and all that sort of thing. Nothing could happen to such a marriage.

Didn't a bishop come all the way from Boston to wed them? Bishop Lawrence, my dear. The wedding was the event of Newport's season just thirteen years ago. The reception that followed the nuptials outrivalled in splendor and magnificence any affair of its kind up to that day.

Mrs. Dickson is the daughter of Mrs. Frederick P. Sands of Greenough place, and a granddaughter of the late Commodore Edward Simpson, U. S. N. Mrs. Dickson's sister is Mrs. Lorillard Spencer, Jr. The latter was divorced some time ago. Her husband married a sister of Mrs. John Jacob Astor. The only brother to these girls, strangely enough, is also divorced.

FRENCH POLICY IN RUHR WINS OVER BRITISH

Paris, Sept. 20, (AP)—The conversation between Premier Poincare and Prime Minister Baldwin of Great Britain is regarded as representing a victory for French policy in the Ruhr. This view is based on the tone of the statement issued after the meeting, for it admitted that only the broadest lines of the policy were discussed and no details considered.

"The statement means," says Le Matin, "that our neighbors across the Channel are going back to the benevolent neutrality of Mr. Bonar Law, that they will not hinder us in the final stages of the struggle and that they will be again at our side when at last the goal—that is to say, payment—is about to be attained.

Le Petit Parisien and Le Journal do not go so far as Le Matin, being apparently desirous of seeing the outcome of the further talk or talks which the Premiers are reported as likely to have before Mr. Baldwin returns to London.

General Strike Called Off by Baden Leaders

Berlin, Sept. 20 (AP).—The general strike which broke out early this week in several districts of Baden was called off today by the leaders of the workers.

A Berlin dispatch Wednesday said the government of Baden had proclaimed a state of emergency in consequence of the general strike at Freiburg and neighboring districts due to the workers' dissatisfaction over their wages. Railway service and newspaper publication were suspended, meetings were forbidden and a curfew law aws in effect.

SEIZE "RIGOLETTO" MSS. FOR HUGO HEIRS

Paris, Sept. 20.—The original French manuscript of "Rigoletto," has been seized by the police, acting under authority of the French courts, in the offices of the Opera Theatre.

The legal dispute in connection with which the seizure was made dates back to 1863, when Victor Hugo, then in exile in the Jersey Islands, vainly protested against the production of "Rigoletto" on the ground that it had been stolen from his own play, "Le Rio S'Amuse." He resorted to French tribunals. Heirs of the poet have kept the case on the court calendar.

WOMAN HELD UP BY MAID; LOSES $6,000

Philadelphia, Sept. 20.—Held up by a maid whom she had just employed, Mrs. Henry Linde of Melrose Park was beaten by a male accomplice and robbed of $6,000 in jewelry.

The day after the girl was hired a young man called to see her. On some pretext the maid called Mrs. Linde into the kitchen. She faced a pistol in the hands of the man, who ordered her to throw up her hands.

WEYMOUTH CRASH CLAIMS SECOND LIFE

Weymouth, Sept. 20.—Miss Laura Wright, twenty years old, of No. 18 Pearl street, South Braintree, died in the Weymouth Hospital from injuries suffered in an auto crash on the Weymouth State road Saturday, in which Harry Burgess, of Holbrook avenue, South Braintree, was instantly killed.

MARGARET ILLINGTON.

MISS ILLINGTON IN HOSPITAL

New York, Sept. 20, (I.N.S.)—Margaret Illington, famous actress and wife of Edward J. Bowles, is in St. Bartholomew's Hospital recovering from a serious operation.

Mr. Bowles said Miss Illington was recovering rapidly and expected to be able to leave the hospital within a few weeks.

Miss Illington was married to Mr. Bowles in 1909 and announced her retirement from the stage "to become a normal, womanly woman and please him."

But seven months later she was back in the old world of the theatre, her husband agreeing that it "was a shame to waste her talents."

Miss Illington's second retirement from the stage followed her appearance in "The Woman in Bronze" three years ago.

FOOD QUERY DEPARTMENT
YOUR FOOD PURCHASING DIFFICULTIES SOLVED

A THURSDAY FEATURE

Are you at a loss as to where you can secure some particular brand or kind of foodstuffs? If so, write the Boston American Food Query Editor. We will answer your inquiry in these columns as quickly as possible.

Food Query Editor:

A friend of mine told me of a wonderful cleanser for pots and pans called S. O. S. I understand it is especially good for aluminum ware. I have tried several stores but can not find one that carries this article. Could you help me through your column. MRS. P. J. Mc,

Newton, Mass.

S. O. S. is practically a new article on this market and it is put up by the S. O. S. Mfg. Co., Chicago, Ill. You can purchase same in any of the Economy Grocery stores.

Food Query Editor:

Before opening our Summer camp in Maine my husband bought two hams somewhere in the market district. The whereabouts of the store or stall he can not remember to save his life. I think the name on the ham was either Horse Shoe Brand or Good Luck Brand. I am quite sure it was one or the other. These were the most delicious hams we have ever had, very mild and sweet. I was told to write your paper to find out where these hams could be bought. Thanking you for the desired information, I remain,

MRS. J. V. A.,

Brookline, Mass.

Handschumacher & Co., 25 John Street and 14 North Street, put up a ham and bacon under the brand of Horse Shoe, a very choice piece of goods. Most likely this is the particular ham you are looking for.

Food Query Editor:

Have you ever heard of a Leslie's Delight Brand of Old English Style Table Sauce. I bought three bottles of this sauce one day by mistake thinking it was Lea & Perrins Worcestershire, as the bottles and the wrapper looked exactly like the imported Worcestershire. At the time I remarked that the price was very much lower than the Lea & Perrins sauce. After trying this article I was agreeably surprised at the taste and for my purpose, price considered, it will suit me down to the ground. The store I bought this article in is now closed so I hope you can tell me where I can buy this article.

MRS. B. L. P.,

Somerville, Mass.

You can buy Leslie's Delight Brand of Old English Style Table Sauce at any of the following chain stores: John T. Connor, Economy or M. O'Keeffe Co.

Food Query Editor:

Have you ever heard of scented or perfumed ironing wax? I saw some many years ago and I wonder if you would be kind enough to inform me as to where I could purchase some. I realize that my request is not strictly a food problem. S. A. H.,

Malden, Mass.

We have made inquiries about a perfumed or scented ironing wax from several of the largest and oldest grocers in Boston and can not find any of these concerns that ever heard of such an article. If, however, we should get a line on a store carrying this wax we will inform you through our column in a later edition.

Food Query Editor:

I would like to know if you have ever heard of a brand of coffee known as the Dinner brand. It is a very fine coffee and I think very reasonable. We used this coffee in Springfield, Mass., and I would like to know if it can be purchased here in Boston.

MRS. E. C.,

Orient Heights, Mass.

The Mohican Company has a blend of coffee known as the Dinner brand and it retails for 25c. a pound, ground to order. As they have a store in Springfield most likely this is the coffee you are looking for.

Food Query Editor:

Have you ever heard of Brussels Sprouts put up in cans? If so, where can they be had? A friend of mine told me you could buy them put up this way and they were very delicious and easy to serve. I am anxious to try a can or two but want to be sure of the quality I will get. Would appreciate your recommending a reliable brand of Sprouts if you know of any. Thanking you I remain, MRS. V. N. W.,

Cambridge, Mass.

We can recommend without any hesitancy the Red Label brand of Brussels Sprouts sold by the S. S. Pierce stores.

RAILWAY MAIL CLERKS WORK FOR RAISE

Bills will be introduced at the opening of the next session of Congress to increase the salaries of railway mail distributors from $2150 to $2600 a year, and to raise clerks in charge from $2300 to $2800 per annum.

This, it was announced by the Boston Branch of the Railway Mail Association, is practically the same scale asked by the railway mail clerks before the Congressional Wage Investigation Commission in 1919 and 1920. Their efforts for an adequate wage increase were defeated at the time because the Burleson administration was able to get the appointment of a steering committee of postal officials to advise the wage committee.

It is alleged that the failure of Congress to increase salaries to keep pace with living costs has resulted in an average loss of approximately $5,000 to each railway postal clerk in the country since 1913.

Dandruffy Heads Become Hairless
"USE LIQUID ARVON"

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. Four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

LIVING COSTS UP 59.5 P. C. IN 10 YEARS

Living costs for the people of Massachusetts are 59.5 higher than they were 10 years ago, according to a bulletin issued today by Chairman Eugene C. Hultman of the Commission on the Necessaries of Life.

The trend of living costs, as indicated by retail prices, shows a microscopic decline in August this year as compared with July. It was three-eighths of one percent.

Family budgets are estimated as follows: For food, 43.1 per cent of the family income; clothing, 13.2; rent, 17.7; fuel and light, 5.8; sundries, 20.4. The family cost shows an increase of 4.2 per cent for August 1923 over 1922.

With the exception of meats, practically all other commodities in the food budget decreased slightly during August.

The price of anthracite continued at the high level of about 90 p. c. over the price in 1913, consequently, the fuel section of the budget is higher than any other element.

Doctors, Mechanics; Surgery a Trade, Says Physician

Philadelphia, Sept. 20.—Physicians and surgeons have become "mere mechanics" and the profession of surgery a trade, Dr. Charles P. Noble of this city told the American Association of Obstetricians, Gynecologists and Abdominal Surgeons, in annual convention here.

"The so-called specialist today," he declared, "is a one-tenth doctor, and a poor one at that.

"Laboratory work of the generation is nonsense; it deals only with the abstract. It has no brain and cannot make a diagnosis. The trouble is that doctors and surgeons have become mere mechanics and the profession of surgery a trade."

NAVAL OFFICER LAYS WRECK TO RADIO SIGNALS

San Diego, Cal., Sept. 20 (AP)—The log of a radio compass station, signals of which the navigator of the destroyer squadron seven testified were disregarded on the night of September 8, when a change of course to the eastward carried seven vessels of the squadron squarely into the rocks off Honda, California, is scheduled to appear as a silent witness before the Naval Court of Inquiry investigating the disaster when its sessions are resumed here tomorrow.

According to the testimony of Lieutenant Lawrence F. Blodgett, navigating officer aboard the Delphy, flagship of the squadron, the bearings sent out from Point Arguello were "entirely unsatisfactory," so much so in fact that when they indicated the squadron was north of Point Arguello, where it would be perilous to turn east, he and the commanding officer of the Delphy did not hesitate to decide on an eastward change of course in spite of them, secure in the belief that the radio station was "turned around" in its signals and was sending them exactly the reverse of what they might expect.

GERMAN AIR RAIDERS TO PILOT U. S. ZEPP

Friedrichshafen, Germany, Sept. 20.—The Zeppelin airship which is being built here for the United States has progressed to the point where it seems likely a trial trip to Germany may be made November 1. The trip to the United States will probably take place during November.

German pilots will handle the airship on her voyage across the Atlantic, accompanied by three American officers as guests. Leman and Von Schillings, who were among the pilots engaged in the attacks on London during the war, are available.

COOLIDGE SEES BORAH ON WESTERN FARMERS' RELIEF

Washington, Sept. 20.—The administration is studying the agricultural situation in the West with the purpose of determining on some problem of relief within the next ten days.

That the problem during that period will receive the energetic attention of President Coolidge and his advisers was stated by Senator Borah of Idaho after an hour's conference with the executive. Senator Borah said he told the President that from his observation he believed the entire agricultural situation west of the Mississippi had never been more serious that it is at this time.

As to the question of calling an extra session of Congress to deal with the situation, Senator Borah said this had been discussed, but that he agreed with the President's view that the effort to define a program for this purpose should be made before an extra session was called.

"If we cannot find a remedy before such a session," the senator said, "we probably could not find one afterwards."

Famous Diamonds

Perhaps the largest diamond in the world is owned by the Rajah of Mutan in Borneo. It is pear-shaped and weighs 367 carats. It is valued at a million dollars.

The Regent or Pitt diamond was purchased by Pitt when he was governor of Madras and was sold by him to the Duke of Orleans. Napoleon pawned it to the Batavian government to secure arms and ammunition. He afterwards redeemed it and wore it in his sword of state.

The "Sancy," too, was once pawned. The King of Portugal pledged it to De Sancy, the treasurer of Henry III of France. The messenger to whom it was entrusted was waylaid and murdered by robbers. But the stone was recovered, for the faithful servant had followed his instructions to swallow it if he was molested.

The Koh-I-Noor, or Mountain of Light, can be traced for over two thousand years. It was presented to Victoria by the East India Company. The Hindus believe its influence to be baleful; and they ascribe the loss of the Queen's husband, the Prince Consort, and their children, to its malign power.

For one hundred and twenty-three years each generation of our firm has studied diamonds; so that we might offer our customers good stones at prices commensurate with their value.

Protests Against Fare Increase Pile Up at State House

Protests against the proposed higher cost of railroad tickets by the three railroads which serve the people of Massachusetts are piling up in the office of the State Department of Public Utilities. At the rate they are coming in the officials of the department expect they will increase to the volume of a regular flood of petitions within a few days.

It is now agreed that the largest hearing room in the State House will have to be used and that the notices of the time and place of the hearings will have to be extensively advertised. It is possible that special hearing days will have to be arranged for the protestants, according to sections of the State, or according to the railroad areas.

TOWN SELECTMEN PROTEST.

"On behalf of and at the request of the commuters of this town," writes J. C. Priest, secretary of the board of selectmen of Sudbury, "we wish to file our protest against the proposed increase in the cost of season or monthly tickets. The outlet for congestion in the cities is the small town within the thirty-mile limit.

Writing from Rockland, Rufus W. Jones states:

"In regard to the proposed increase of 20 per cent. on monthly commutation tickets, would say I desire to enter my protest against any such outrage being perpetrated on the people of Massachusetts."

WELLESLEY EDITOR WRITES.

John C. Morse, editor of the Wellesley Townsman, communicated the following:

"The Wellesley Townsman enters a vigorous protest against the proposed fare increases recently filed by the Boston & Albany railroad. These increases in our estimation are excessive, unwarranted and detrimental to thousands of Wellesley commuters."

William P. Daley, chairman of the railroad and street railway committee of the City of Woburn, in writing to the department, states:

"As chairman of the railroad and street railway committee and in behalf of the riding public of the City of Woburn who depend on the Boston & Maine for transportation, I hereby protest the proposed increase of 20 per cent. to be assessed on commuters' monthly and students' tickets."

CANNOT PAY MORE.

The following letter was received from Ernest R. Grauman of Chelmsford:

"Being a daily commuter between Boston and Lowell, I hereby register a vigorous protest against the proposed fare raise of twenty per cent., as I already live up to every cent of my income owing to the high cost of living."

From Billerica, C. D. Tutein wrote:

"As a patron of the Boston & Maine Railroad, this contemplated increase of twenty per cent. in passenger fares affects me very much and I wish to enter my protest of such an advance."

Felix Rackemann, Boston attorney, wrote the following letter:

CITES THE LAWS.

"I do not feel that I am sufficiently informed to express an intelligent opinion as to whether the suburban rates of fare on the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad are at present reasonable or not, but I trust that in considering the matter the provisions of Chapter 160, Section 190 of the General Laws will be kept in mind. The provisions which I refer to provide that: 'So far as practicable, the rates of fare on all roads for like distances from their terminal stations shall be equal.'"

Representative Thomas H. Bilodeau of the Twenty-fourth Suffolk District is among the Protestants.

Railway Business Is Smashing All Records

As a matter of fact, the railroads today are doing more business than ever before in their history, including passenger and freight hauls.—Statement by Robert H. Newcomb of the Boston & Maine Railroad, at convention of Kiwanians at Swampscott.

Freight Traffic on Lines in East Gains 62 Per Cent.

Washington, Sept. 20.—Freight traffic on American railroads in July of this year was the largest ever recorded for that month with the exception of 1918 and 1920. Statistics show the movement, measured in net ton miles, was 38,513,263,000. This figure was exceeded in July, 1920, by nearly five per cent., and in 1918 by about 2 per cent.

Compared with last July, when the shopmen's strike was on, the month showed increased traffic of 42 per cent. In the Eastern district, the figures were 62 per cent. higher. The Southern and Western districts showed increases of 30 and 22 per cent. respectively.

Loading of revenue freight for the week ending September 8 was 928,858 cars, an increase of 105,611 over the same period in 1922, according to the American Railway Association. The total, however, was less than for the previous week, owing to Labor Day and the suspension of work in the anthracite fields.

Lawrence to Make Attack on Increase

Lawrence, Sept. 20. — Alderman Peter Carr announced that he will ask Mayor Mahoney to call a special meeting of the council to make arrangements to enter a protest with the public utilities board against the proposed plan of the Boston & Maine Railroad to raise the price of monthly commutation tickets between this city and Boston by 20 per cent.

Alderman Carr said the proposed raise, if put into effect, would mean that local commuters would be called upon to pay $15.46 for a ticket which is now sold for $12.88; and that hundreds of men and women would be affected. He will ask that the council members and the city solicitor appear before the public utilities board to prevent the enforcement of the proposed increase.

AUTO CRUSHES WOMAN, ON SIDEWALK, TO DEATH

Fall River, Sept. 20.—Mrs. Jane Brown, sixty-six years old, of No. 510 Third street, was killed when struck by an automobile as she was walking along the sidewalk on Spring street, a few feet from St. Mary's Cathedral. Hundreds of workers on their way home saw the woman crushed between the automobile and a granite post twelve inches square. The post was split open like a log of wood. The automobile, operated by Leo J. Menard, No. 153 Quarry street, the property of the Adaskin Furniture Company, Springfield, became unmanageable and started backwards down a hill. Menard was taken to police headquarters and held pending an investigation.

VICTIM OF KNIFE THRUST DYING, NAMES ASSAILANT

Thomas Kane, twenty-eight years old, single, of No. 343 Beacon Street, Somerville, was probably fatally stabbed, following an argument between himself and a fellow worker at Fleet and Commercial Streets, North End. Kane is on the danger list at the Haymarket Relief Hospital suffering from deep [illegible] wounds about the chest. He is not expected to recover. He names John Crozier, an ironworker, address unknown as his assailant. According to the police, the two men were walking home together when they engaged in a heated controversy.

GOULD DEMANDS EX-WIFE GIVE UP HIS NAME

Paris, Sept. 20.—The forthcoming appearance of Edith Kelly Gould, former wife of Frank J. Gould, at a Paris music hall has been widely announced in the Paris press and Mr. Gould, through his American counsel, Charles G. oLeb, has sought an injunction to prevent her using the name of Gould in this connection.

He demands the destruction of the programs and advertising matter using the Gould name and that the newspapers be restrained from printing that name in connection with his ex-wife's appearance on the boards.

Mr. Gould's demand is based on the fact that the divorce was granted in a French court. Therefore, it is argued, the French divorce laws should apply, these preventing a divorced wife from using her former husband's name.

DINES WITH WIFE WHO USED AXE

The divorce case of Arnaldo Busi, who declared he would rather commit suicide than live with his wife, Giustina, again, took a new turn in Suffolk County Court today, when witnesses testified he had eaten supper with her since their separation.

Busi testified before Chief Justice Hall that his wife hit him with a broom, a cane and an axe, burned him with a poker, stabbed him with a knife and threatened him with a revolver. Outside of that, he had no fault to find, except that her disposition was not harmonius with his, and that he was not the father of two of her children, one of them not yet born.

Busi sought a divorce on the grounds of cruel and abusive treatment, and a large number of witnesses were present for both sides.

GIVEN 2½ YEARS FOR MANSLAUGHTER

Charles E. Fay of Stoughton today pleaded guilty to manslaughter before Judge Fosdick in the Superior Court at Dedham. He was sentenced to two and a half years in the house of correction. Fay was in a fight with John R. Smalley on April 17 last, when they were separated by Daniel J. Kohane. When Kohane turned away Fay struck him. Kohane fell, fracturing his skull and died of his injuries.

RIOT MARS YOM KIPPUR SERVICE IN LYNN

The Yom Kippur celebration in the Jewish Synagogue at Commercial and South Common streets, Lynn, ended in a riot when a mob attacked two special officers who arrested two youths for interrupting the services.

The officers, William Sherman and Daniel Fineberg, arrested Roger Wallace, seventeen years old, of Silver place, Lynn, and Liberio Ferrari, sixteen years old, of No. 26 Kirland street, Lynn.

According to the officers, the two boys hurled stones through a door of the synagogue at the worshippers.

HUNDREDS DIE IN BULGAR REVOLT

London, Sept. 20 (I.N.S.)—Hundreds of persons have been killed in fighting between Bulgarian Communists and troops, according to a Daily Chronicle dispatch from Sofia.

The backbone of the revolt has been broken by the prompt measure of the government, the dispatch adds.

The Masedonian committee is threatening to join the insurgents. Sofia charges that neighboring Balkan states gave assistance to the rebels.

Martial law is strictly enforced.

"Mike" Vanderbilt Today's "Who's News" Along the North Shore

By BETTY ALDEN

HAROLD S. VANDERBILT, known as "Mike" to his intimates, is added today to our "Who's News Along the North Shore."

The prominent New York yachtsman spends August and September at the Caswell place, Beverly Farms. Also a member of that colony is Miss "Eleo" Sears, whom we added to our "Who's News" yesterday. As we said at the time, Mr. Vanderbilt and Miss Sears were so consistently but so unsuccessfully rumored engaged to each other for a long time that I'm afraid the teacup chatterers have given up in despair.

"Mike" Vanderbilt is Commodore of the New York Yacht Club, and his yacht, the Vagrant, is one of the most trim-looking craft on the Atlantic coast. When the boat is moored off the North Shore during the Summer months, a number of jolly parties are always given there.

The owner of the Vagrant is mighty popular down along the shore, where he finds many of his Harvard classmates to "pal" around with during his lease of the Caswell place. A particular friend of his is Dudley L. Pickman, Jr., also a Harvard '07, man.

Mr. Vanderbilt is the youngest son of William K. Vanderbilt by his first wife, who is now Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont. He's quite devoted to his sister, the onetime Consuelo Vanderbilt, who became the Duchess of Marlborough, and is now Mme. Jacques Balsan, wife of the prominent French sportsman. During the American girl's marriage to hte English nobleman, young Vanderbilt spent much of his time at Blenheim.

The popular stamping-ground of the clan of Vanderbilt during the torrid season is, of course, Little Rhody's famous watering-place. That's where "Mike" Vanderbilt proves the exception to the rule. He's never cared much for Newport, and apparently never will.

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD D. SEARS and their family have returned from a Summer at Dark Harbor, Me., to spend the Autumn at their Pride's Crossing villa.

WHEN pretty "Sister" Caswell becomes the bride of John Mitchell at Beverly Farms a week from Saturday, Miss Hope Gaston will be in the attending group.

Miss Gaston is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Gaston of Bay State road. Besides being noted for the smartness of her apparel, Miss Gaston has proved herself an able campaigner in behalf of her distinguished pater.

MR. AND MRS. RUSSELL S. CODMAN recently had as house guest at their Manchester villa Mrs. Henry W. Munro of Tuxedo Park, N. Y., and Miss Adele Kneeland of Lenox. During their visit, Mrs. Codman gave a luncheon in their honor.

MR. AND MRS. BARRETT WENDELL are guests at the Tunipoo Inn, Beverly Farms, where they plan to remain probably until the middle of October.

U. S. UNIVERSITY MEN TO WORK FOR LEAGUE

Geneva, Sept. 20.—Another outlet for the expression of world opinion in support of the League of Nations has been opened here in the inauguration of a movement by university groups of many nations for the establishment of an international university federation.

Delegations representing American, ESnglish, French, Bulgarian, Swiss, Czecholovakian and Jugoslavian univecsities have presented a resolution to President Torriente of the league assembly. The resolution says that the organization, "considering that the best guarantee of universal peace lies in respect for law and justice, that the principles of the covenant of the league offer a firm basis for the collaboration of all peoples, and that it is necessary to win over public opinion to this end, especially among the youth of the world, undertakes to do its utmost to start propaganda and to exercise its influence on public opinion to this end, especially in university circles."

FEMALE OF SELLING SPECIES MUST NOT SPEED; FINE $20

Miss Margaret M. Wall of Swampscott, automobile saleswoman and demonstrator, learned in the Lynn District Court today that automobile demonstrators have no privileges on the highways. The knowledge cost her $20.

Miss Wall entered Ocean street, Lynn's proudest residential avenue, on the left side of a traffic post and at a speed of thirty-four miles an hour. She nonchalantly informed the motor cop that she was a demonstrator, and, as such, was privileged to cut corners and show a burst of speed on occasion.

Judge Reeve, in imposing a fine of $20, informed Miss Wall that no living person has any special privileges on the highways of Massachusetts.

BOY WHO SHOT CHUM IS HELD WITHOUT BAIL

Lawrence, Sept. 20. (I.N.S.)—Leo Gagnon, 15, was held without bail today when arraigned for the murder of nine-year-old Christopher Flanagan. Gagnon entered a plea of not guilty. The boy was shot with a 22-calibre rifle when, it is alleged, he refused to get out of a row boat on the Merrimac River at Gagnon's command. Gagnon will be given a hearing tomorrow.

Rome—The anniversary of the establishment of Rome as the capital of Italy was celebrated today with unusual solemnity and enthusiasm, for it was the first recurrence of the day since the advent of the Fascisti.

KISSED, WOOED RIVAL BEFORE WIFE'S EYES

New York, Sept. 20.—Mrs. Larue Sloan, who has filed suit for separation against her husband, Kenneth Sloan, naming Florence Decker, who lives in their neighborhood, today was awarded alimony and counsel fees by Supreme Court Justice Hagarty in Brooklyn, pending trial of her suit.

Mrs. Sloan says her husband brought Miss Decker into their home and there made violent love to her.

In a conference with her husband and Miss Decker, which lasted from 2 to 5 in the morning, Mrs. Sloan declares the couple admitted their love for each other.

"Sloan openly flaunted an improper amour in my face," Mrs. Sloan said. "He had brought her into my home and kissed and made love to her in my presence."

Sloan denied the charges. He said the trouble was caused "by her desire to cast her time and affection on Arthur Merrifield," which Mrs. Sloan denied.

NEW BASIS TO SAVE MILLIONS IN YEAST

New York, Sept. 20.—Discovery of a new basis for yeast, which it is estimated, will mean a $5,000,000 yearly saving to the yeast industry, was announced by the American Chemical Society today. The product, a mixture of mineral salts, will prevent a yearly waste in the fermentation process of 200,000 barrels of flour, 30,000 barrels of sugar, and 15,000,000 tons of yeast, it was stated.

A Little Talk On Courtesy

By THE VETERAN MOTORIST

EVERY motorist who prides himself on being a better-than-average driver knows how important the matter of courtesy is. A whole flock of seemingly little things distinguish really good drivers from only average or fair ones.

Consideration for pedestrians, especially those on the sidewalk, is one of those little things. How often you see a driver go breezing up close to the curb full speed right through a puddle of water. He could have avoided it. But no, he has that darned, "don't care" habit, and a woman has a new dress or expensive cleaning job to pay for. I don't get sore very often. But that particular kind of thoughtlessness always gives me a sharp pain under the collar.

It doesn't cost a red cent to be courteous, and it pays big in the self-respect you get out of it—always.

SHOTS FIRED IN CHASE OF GIRLS' ATTACKERS

New York, Sept. 20.—Firemen and police joined in a chase through West Central Park and the adjoining fashionable apartment district early today after six men who stabbed a young German immigrant as he sat on a park bench with his sweetheart, covered his bleeding form with newspapers, and dragged the struggling girl off to a secluded spot.

Two hours after the attack, George Volland, the youth, regained consciousness. He staggered to the nearest park exit and collapsed beneath a fire box after pulling an alarm. He may die.

In the ensuing search, firemen and police routed two men from a clump of bushes. Margaret Lachman, the girl, was found nearby, dazed.

Pursued by a converging stream of pistol fire as other searchers joined the chase, the two fugitives leaped a 20-foot cliff overhanging Eighth avenue and ran up 103rd street. The police leaped after them. Later they found Alfred Askness, 19-year-old chauffeur, beneath a pile of lumber in the basement of an apartment. He was identified by the girl as one of her assailants.

Other police arrested a man at 104th street, Edward Hallett, 24. His face was cut and bleeding, probably, police believe, by jutting rocks as he leaped from the park cliff. He too was identified by Miss Lachman.

GLOBE EDITOR'S EYESIGHT NEEDS ATTENTION

If the Editor of the Boston Globe will telephone the Editor of the American the latter will supply the former with the name and address of a very excellent optometrist.

An optometrist is an expert on eyesight. Evidentally the Globe Editor is in need of such attention.

For today there appeared in the Globe this headline over two cuts of four columns each:

"First Photographs of the Japanese Earthquake."

Beneath the photographs an article whereby the Globe convicted itself of its own error. For in this little article the Globe told how their "first" pictures of the Far East catastrophe arrived "last evening."

The first Japanese earthquake pictures were published by the American YESTERDAY AFTERNOON. They arrived in Boston at 1:40 p. m. American readers were viewing these pictures at 3:50 o'clock, or before the Globe, by its own admission, received its pictures.

This big beat follows the American's famous pictorial beats on President Harding's funeral train journey and burial. It is but one of the recent scoops of the past few days, when the American was the first Boston newspaper to announce the Railroad plan to increase fares in Massachusetts, to identify the Tyngsboro Suitcase Victim and that Dr. William M. Robb had been indicted for murder. Also the first newspaper to publish the picture of the recent Cape Cod destroyer accident.

The American's telephone number, Mr. Globe Editor, is Main 5180.

THIN G. A. R. RANKS CAUSE JOINT PLAN

Springfield, Sept. 20.—So depleted have become the ranks of several Civil war regimental associations that have annually held reunions in this city that a proposal was made in the fifty-second reunion of the 27th Massachusetts Regiment here today that hereafter the gatherings of that regiment, he 37th and 10th Massachusetts be combined. Though more than one group of aged veterans have in their last reunion quickly voted down a proposal to discontinue reuniouns, it is believed that the joint plan may find favor.

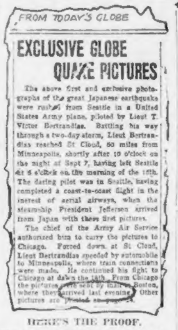
FROM TODAY'S GLOBE



EXCLUSIVE GLOBE QUAKE PICTURES

The above first and exclusive photographs of the great Japanese earthquake were rushed from Seattle in a United States Army plane, piloted by Lieut T. Victor Bertrandias. Battling his way through a two-day storm, Lieut Bertrandias reached St Cloud, 60 miles from Minneapolis, shortly after 10 o'clock on the night of Sept 7, having left Seattle at 5 o'clock on the morning of the 15th. The daring pilot was in Seattle, having completed a coast-to-coast flight in the interest of aerial airways, when the steamship President Jefferson arrived from Japan with these first pictures.

The chief of the Army Air Service authorized him to carry the pictures to Chicago. Forced down at St Cloud, Lieut Bertrandias speeded by automobile to Minneapolis, where train connections were made. He continued his flight to Chicago at dawn the 18th. From Chicago the pictures were sent by mail to Boston, where they arrived last evening. Other pictures are printed on page 24.

HERE'S THE PROOF.

The Globe's pictures of the earthquake in Japan printed today were excellent, but our neighbor erroneously stated they were the "first" pictures of the disaster. The American printed equally excellent pictures yesterday.

CAREER COSTS GLORIA HER HUSBAND

GLORIA SWANSON

MILLIONAIRE'S SLANDER SUIT STIRS BEAUTY

New York, Sept. 20.—Through his attorney, Malcolm Sumner, the aged and wealthy Joseph Fleischman [illegible] received the latest legal move of pretty Mrs. Dorothy Hopkins in her $50,000 slander suit against him [illegible] next Monday he will move for an order striking out her justification answer.

When the millionaire Turkish bath proprietor retaliated to Robert Thompson Hopkins' action for $500,000 alienation balm by charging "the plaintiff and wife are conclusively acting together in an attempt to blackmail and levy moneys" the slander suit emerged.

By her newest court step Mrs. Hopkins would discredit affidavits of Ralph Howard and his wife, Hester, on which Fleischman bases his answer. Of this Mr. Sumner said:

Dorothy Hopkins

"Although I would not presume to usurp the functions of our Supreme Court by anticipating its decision on Mrs. Hopkins' motion, nevertheless we welcome the opportunity now presented to have the court decide whether the matters we have set forth in justification of everything we have said about Mrs. Hopkins is as she claims 'frivolous and irrelevant.'

"If Mrs. Hopkins [illegible] believes that the [illegible] have made [illegible] which she has [illegible] denied [illegible] ous, then she is [illegible] in her sense of [illegible] or has a peculiar sense of humor."

Mr. Sumner made no attempt to refute the affidavits relating to the Howards. He merely said:

"I hold no brief for Mrs. Hopkins' niece (Hester Howard) or her nephew, whose character she so bitterly assails. But it seems significant that while she has set forth with considerable detail past happenings in their lives Mrs. Hopkins has not denied any of the things which her niece and nephew have sworn to in affidavits on file in this court that she was collusively acting with her husband in attempting to extort money from Mr. Fleischman."

MISS SWANSON DESERTED HER NO. 2

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 20.—Gloria Swanson lost her second husband, Herbert K. Somborn, in Judge Burke's court. Somborn was given a divorce on the grounds of desertion.

"My wife put her career above everything else in the world," he told the court. "She left me as she left her first husband, Wallace Beery, after less than two years of married life. We were married in December, 1919, and separated in May, 1921. Shortly before the separation I was taken to the Westlake Hospital for a minor operation. It was while I was convalescing that Gloria told me of her intention.

"'I must have my career,' she said. 'Nothing can interfere.'"

The suit was not contested, the defendant being at present in New York with her three-year-old daughter. The court decreed that a trust fund should be established for the child, the interest on which would be ample to support her until she reached maturity.

MELLON LOOKS FOR LULLS IN BUSINESS

Washington, Sept. 20.—Despite lulls that have become manifest in some lines of industry in the last few weeks Secretary Mellon sees no reason to believe that the wave of business prosperity will be slackened more than temporarily. He declared today such conditions would continue to slow on the business horizon but he still he did not regard them as serious.

U. S. ZEPPELIN TRIAL TRIP NOV. 1 PLANNED

GIRL AWAY, LOVE TRIAL HALTS

Mrs. Keith Charges Miss Nichols Was Affinity of Husband, Asking Divorce

The absence from the State of Miss Nellie Nichols of Swampscott, who, it is charged, replaced Mrs. Inez Keith in the affections of her husband, Lewis E. Keith, Lynn manufacturer, suddenly halted the sensational Keith divorce case in Suffolk Probate Court.

Keith's suit for divorce from his wife, who lives in Winthrop, on grounds of unfaithfulness with Donald H. Fuller, was continued indefinitely to give Miss Nichols a chance to appear and tell her story. She is in Intervale, N. H., and cannot be summoned.

"Although Mrs. Keith has not filed a cross divorce libel," she declared in her answer that Keith "is just as friendly with Miss Nichols as he charges" her with being with Fuller.

Donald H. Fuller, who is a salesman and member of a Marblehead yacht club, testified that he rented rooms in Mrs. Keith's various Winthrop apartments, paying her $1 a night or $5 a week. Desiring [illegible] called on her Cottage Park apartment on April 8, last, he said.

SAW NO HARM.

"Keith gave me no chance to explain. If I had done anything wrong with Mrs. Keith I would have [illegible] I was [illegible] and [illegible]

"[illegible] packed my preparatory to lodge with Mrs. Keith at another house. Mrs. Keith and I did not [illegible] the next day. They found my shirt and ties in her drawer [illegible] I put them there ready to throw them in a suitcase next morning."

Chester H. Critchett, credit man at a department store, testified goods were delivered to a "Mrs. D. H. Fuller" and charged to Fuller's account. Mrs. Keith called to the stand said she bought the articles but that some one in the store was responsible for considering her Mrs. Fuller and writing that name. She signed the slips "D. H. Fuller."

A big New York piano dealer stopped at my place of business for nearly a whole day recently—during his stay he saw various customers coming and going, all expressing satisfaction with their purchase and the treatment that they received. He asked me how I managed to establish such pleasant relations with my customers. I told him that the Boston public knew me and appreciated my policy. Every customer knows that he can buy any make piano cheaper in my place than he can any place else and that my terms are the easiest, and he knows that I will treat him fairly and squarely at all times; and if he is sick or out of work he is safe in my hands. He can't lose if he trades with J. P. Collins. I satisfy even if I lose money doing it.

To the Theatre-Goers of Boston:

Owing to the unprecedented interest caused by announcement of final performances of "THE COVERED WAGON" at the MAJESTIC THEATRE, supplemented by a deluge of mail orders and applications at the box office for seats, it is with a great deal of pleasure that we announce we have been able to make arrangements to extend the engagement of "THE COVERED WAGON" at the MAJESTIC THEATRE in this city.

In the years that we have been connected with the American theatre, never before have we presented any attraction which has given such universal satisfaction and aroused such widespread commendation as "THE COVERED WAGON" and it is for this reason we take the trouble to rearrange our bookings at the Majestic Theatre to extend the engagement and keep this great American picture in Boston.

Year's Best Selling Novel Reveals Mysterious Return of Youth and Beauty to Old Woman

By Arrangement with Associated First National Pictures, Inc., in Whose Film Version Corrine Griffith Will Appear as Countess Zattiany

START THIS BEST-SELLER HERE TODAY

A young and beautiful woman creates a sensation at a first night in New York by rising in her seat at the theatre and coolly surveying the audience through her glasses, after the European fashion. Lee Clavering, a brilliant newspaper writer, is immediately interested, and learns she is the image of a former society belle, Mary Ogden, though much younger than she should be at that time. He makes her acquaintance and finds she is Countess Josef Zattiany. He nearly guesses her secret. He asks her to marry him. He takes her to a gay studio party, after which she invites him home to hear her story of renewed youth. He is stunned by the revelation. Meanwhile, Janet Oglethorpe, flapper daughter of one of Clavering's intimate friends, confesses her love for him. Then Madam Zattiany agrees to marry him and they plan their honeymoon.

Supper Potatoes

Into an iron skillet or frying pan put 2 tablespoons of bacon fat or butter. When smoking hot spread 2 cups of thinly sliced cold potatoes over the bottom of the skillet. Fry a delicate brown on one side but do not turn. Pour over these, four beaten eggs seasoned with 1-3 teaspoon of salt and 1 tablespoonful of chopped parsley. Over all scatter ½ cupful of shredded dried beef, minced ham, grated cheese or bits of fish. Cook slowly until eggs have set. Carefully loosen from the bottom of the skillet and serve folded like an omelet.

Putney, Vt. MRS. ETHEL A. LYONS.

Pineapple Dainty

Peel a fresh pineapple and remove the eyes. Cut a slice of the fruit, sprinkle with sugar and let stand for an hour. Place a square of angel food cake in a tall, broad sherbet glass. Above this place a slice of pineapple cut into pieces. Cook the juice of the pineapple with 2 tablespoonfuls of sugar and 1 tablespoonful of lemon juice. Add ¼ of a cupful of maraschino cherry juice. Pour this over the pineapple and cake. Garnish each glass with whipped cream and a cherry.

SYRUP PEPSIN
And so do the children

Some Families Are Never Ill

FORTUNATE are the children whose parents fully realize the seriousness of constipation. Hospital records prove that 75 per cent of all disease originates in bowel obstruction, or constipation. Young children cry because of it; school children are hampered in their studies; grown people are made 25 per cent less efficient; elderly people's blood pressure increases 28 per cent. Realizing this Mrs. Carrie Moss of 1714 Church st., Lynchburg Va., Mr. Louis C. Grabl of 1569 Winton ave., Lakewood, Ohio, and innumerable others, give a spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at the first sign of constipation, and have no sickness among their children.

Largest Selling Laxative

Every up-to-date family medicine chest should contain a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a compound of Egyptian senna with pepsin and palatable aromatics, a prescription written 30 years ago by Dr. W. B. Caldwell, who practiced medicine 47 years. You can buy a bottle in any store where medicines are sold, and the cost is less than a cent a dose. We guarantee that if you will give Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin to a child or for a few nights to an adult it will relieve any case of constipation no matter how chronic, or your money will be refunded.

10 Million Bottles a Year

Use it once and you will never again take coal-tar drugs in candy form, calomel or salts. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a vegetable laxative free from opiates and narcotics. It can be safely given to infants, yet it effectively moves the bowels of adults. It acts gently; does not cramp or gripe. Keep it in the house and use it for any indication of bowel obstruction such as constipation, biliousness, torpid liver, dyspepsia, pimples and like skin eruptions. Give it early and it will break up a fever or a cold overnight. A spoonful proves it.

How To Forget Troubles

TROUBLES knock up your system like Jack Dempsey knocks down his opponent.

Troubles deal blows both in the head and stomach—and they hurt the stomach more than they do the head!

Troubles give the stomach indigestion, slow up the liver—and then follow constipation and biliousness.

The way to get rid of troubles is to invigorate digestion, stimulate liver and bowels and tone up the entire system. The best way to do this—has been for the past 80 years—is to take Beecham's Pills.

Then you will feel so good that "troubles" become merely problems, to be solved readily by the clear, keen brain of health.

HELP FOR GIRLS WHO WORK

Mrs. Lodic Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her

Tyrone, Pa.—"A friend told my husband how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had helped his wife, so my husband bought me a bottle because I was so run-down, had a nervous weakness, no strength in my body and pains in my left side so bad that I could hardly do my work. Before I was married I used to work in the factory, and I had pains just the same then as I have had since I have done my housework. I would not be without a bottle in the house now. It has stopped the pains all right and I have found out that it is a wonderful body builder, as it has made me well and strong. It is going to be the 'old reliable' with me hereafter, and I am always willing to tell other women how it has helped me. You can use this letter as you wish as I can honestly say that my words are true."—Mrs. M. LODIC, R. F. D. No. 4, Box 40, Tyrone, Pa.

Letters like this bring out the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They tell of the relief from such pains and ailments after taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

The Fold Is Woven In—Why?

The fold in the ordinary collar, ironed, creases anew every time. That means unevenness, imperfect fit. In the VAN HEUSEN the fold is woven permanently. It need never be ironed in. This saves the VAN HEUSEN, laundered flat, the wear from constant ironing. It also gives a trim fit which makes it smarter looking than any other collar.

WARD AND SHEVLIN JOIN FIGHT ON THE N. Y. BOXING BOARD

READY TO BOX WALKER DESPITE SUSPENSION

By JACK CONWAY.

George Ward

More trouble for the ridiculous New York Boxing Commission. George Ward, flashy Elizabeth, N. J., welterweight and Eddie Shevlin, New England welterweight champion, who battle in a ten round bout at the Boston Arena tomorrow evening have issued a challenge to Messrs. Muldoon, McCormick, Foote and [illegible] who control the [illegible] operations in the Empire State.

Ward and Shevlin each declare they will battle Mickey Walker, world's welterweight champion, in either Newark or Boston if successful in their skirmish tomorrow night.

Walker was suspended in New York because he wouldn't battle Dave Shade, one proclaimed New York State champion. The Leo Flynn entry later lost his title when he was tossed for a loss by Jimmy Jones of Youngstown.

Jack Bulger, Walker's manager, has been fighting the New York commission for several months. He has been successful in inducing managers of prominent boxers to permit their proteges to show in New Jersey. Walker's opponents have been suspended in New York, but this did not bother them a [illegible]. In time Bulger may be [illegible] the entire [illegible] suspended in the [illegible].

Jacobs is also trying to coax Harry Greb, middleweight boss, into a ring with McTigue. Joe is willing that the weight for the contest be 160 pounds which would place both the world's middleweight title and the light heavyweight championships at stake.

Harry Wills will not get a bout with Jack Dempsey next year. Paddy Mullins would be acting wise if he booked the negro heavyweight for other matches and real[ize]d some money on Harry's remarkable fighting ability.

Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager informed this writer while at Saratoga last week that he would never sign for a Dempsey-Wills bout until [illegible] state where boxing [illegible] the contest could be staged without any interference. There isn't a chance of any governor making such a promise.

Winning Radio Wrinkle

An old fuse plug makes an ideal insulating bushing for carrying the lead-in wire into the house.

Simply cut away the metal and the bottom of the fuse, leaving the porcelain bushing. Or, if desired, the mica face may be left in as part of the bushing, and a hole pierced in it just large enough to take the lead-in wire.

If it is desired not to mar any part of the house trim, a narrow board cut the width of the window and held in place between the sash and the sill, forms an excellent place to inset the bushing for the lead in wire. J. H. K.

Pinchot Settlement

Little Weight in Criticism of the Coal Situation by Investigating Committee of State Legislature

We are not very much impressed with the criticism which the special coal investigating committee of the Massachusetts Legislature makes of the settlement effected by Governor Pinchot. The committee criticizes the Pinchot settlement upon the ground that it gives the mine workers a certain increase of pay and permits the mine owners to increase the price a certain fraction of the increase in wages and then passes on to the rest 90 per cent. of the increase.

The statement that the mine workers are citizens of Pennsylvania and that the mines are property of the State of Pennsylvania and that the settlement is wholly in the interest of Pennsylvania and at the expense of New England, New York and other hard coal burning States is perfectly true and fairly obvious. But that it is not a good settlement in view of the Massachusetts legislative committee's report is not so clear. Both Mr. Lewis, president of the miners, and Governor Pinchot contend that the railroads absorb altogether too much of the total price of coal and that the middlemen, especially the big jobbers, also take more than their service is worth out of the price of coal which the consumers have to pay.

We notice that the legislative committee not only do NOT suggest, but even FLOUT the idea advanced by Governor Pinchot that the railroads ought to reduce their charges on coal; nor does the committee make any suggestion whatever concerning the duty of the wholesale jobbers to extract less for their share of the total cost of the coal.

It may be that a boycott of hard coal, as the committee suggests, is the best remedy to force the coal owners to sell the coal for something like a reasonable price. But the alternative is soft coal, and to boycott hard coal by burning soft coal is to make the people of this community pay a very high price for a victory over the hard coal miners. We really do not need to pay any such price.

A national government which is in dead earnest and a bunch of Governors which is in dead earnest can beat down the price of coal without making us go through another Winter with soft coal, endangering our homes by clogged and superheated chimney flues, destroying our furniture and wallpaper and ceilings, dirtying our draperies and carpets and filling our lungs, eyes, ears and noses with soot, just to get even with a group of men to whom we need only to read the riot act AS IF WE MEANT IT and to take our tongues out of our cheeks while we are doing it.

When the people of New York, New Jersey and New England tell the national administration so emphatically that they believe it that if coal goes up a cent this year not one of these States will go Republican at the next national election, the price of coal will not go up.

But even then the coal barons and the railroads and coal jobbers may be able to laugh at us, for the whole dramatic affair may have been staged just to keep the people from demanding that the price of coal GO DOWN, as indeed it should!

The Mysterious Eel

And Canned Oxygen

Copyright, 1923, Star Co.

The eel that you have seen and perhaps eaten, if your horror of snakes isn't too great, has been since 350 B. C. until the other day one of the world's great mysteries.

Eels live in fresh water, but never BREED there. They are found traveling across the grass, swimming down stream, bound for the ocean. There, in salt water, the young eels come to life. And by a marvelous instinct they come back to their fresh water residence.

Only recently a wise Doctor Schmidt of Denmark has discovered that the breeding place is in salt water a mile deep in the West Indies. European and American eels are much alike and breed in the same place. But the European eel always goes back to Europe, and the American eel comes back to America.

A recent experiment with eels may some time be useful, when men, having discovered everything on this earth, decide to explore other planets.

Eels were sent alive from America to Denmark in small bottles filled with salt water and compressed oxygen. An eel couldn't live long on the amount of oxygen that a small bottle of water would contain. The compressed oxygen was gradually liberated and the eels arrived in Copenhagen alive and happy.

When we first send a human being in a large container out through our atmosphere and through the ether to some other near planet, perhaps Mars, that idea of compressing oxygen will be useful. It would take a good deal to last through a journey, even as short as forty million miles, which is the distance of our nearest planetary neighbor at its closest.

There will be no trouble about power for such a journey. When men learn how to release the energy locked up in the atoms that compose an ordinary fork or spoon, that energy would be sufficient to carry a traveler through space to another planet easily. At least the scientists say so, and they should know.

Prospecting by Airplane

What Is Up North?

Copyright, 1923, Star Co.

Hakon H. Hammer, a business man of Seattle, is tempted to fly across the North Pole and see what it is like. He went up to Spitzbergen and flew around there for a while under the midnight sun. He was interested to see below him what appeared to be the craters of extinct volcanoes. That land may once have been over the equator. He thinks his all-metal Junker plane would make the trip of 500 miles from Spitzbergen to the North Pole easily, and he'll try it if another proposed trip is abandoned.

Mr. Hammer isn't merely interested in being able to say "I did it." He wants to make stops here and there, to investigate that northern territory and learn what sort of minerals it may possess. Also he wants to know what land there is on the other side of the Pole, and what, if anything, it is worth.

The world may yet see a North Pole gold craze, with the prospectors flying toward the gold instead of traveling in ox cars. Quite a change since 1849.

NATURE NOW TURNS HER WRATH UPON CALIFORNIA

By Herbert Kaufman

MISFORTUNE still breaks on the Pacific. First the Japanese holocaust, then a U. S. naval disaster and now enormous forest fires that sweep through a half dozen California counties, wipe out entire towns, magnificent estates, Summer resorts and a great section of Berkeley.

Half of the coast is blanketed with smoke. Fortunately, no lives are lost, but the property damage will run into millions.

Nature seems bent on demonstrating that human prowess shall never prevail against her own forces. When all's said and done, what a puny thing man's will is!

No wonder primitive peoples make deities of storm and flame and seek to propitiate their devastating rages with ritual and sacrifice.

Mars, sated for the moment with blood offerings, unbuckles his armor and shows inclination to leave Europe in peace.

The Janina episode blows over, as Athens fires salutes to the allied fleet, formally attends the funeral services of assassinated Boundary Commissioners and concludes official expiation by having Premier Gonaris pay his devoirs to the Italian Minister.

Belgrade assures the world that the Fiume question is practically settled, but is not optimistic over the difficulties arising from the Bulgar-Serb quarrel, which so disturbs Europe that Poincare and Baldwin find it expedient to confer on the matter.

While they're confabbing, it would be well to consider the growing desperation of Germany, daily manifest in political riots and hunger raids. Switzerland, alarmed at mounting violence, closes her frontiers. Marks are now quoted at 250,000,000 to the dollar.

Herr Hohenzollern, however, with a snug fortune, cannily invested in guilders and pounds, has no need to bother about that. Precedent teaches reigning monarchs to prepare for rainy days.

Even the Prince of Wales makes a bet on the side in the shape of a Canadian ranch.

With apologies to Bartley Campbell, "Back to the mines, there'll be no strike this year."

The unions don't wait for signed agreements, but send their men to the shafts, which doesn't mean that the public's fuel worries are yet past.

Unless we have an especially mild Winter, anthracite will be scarcer than hens' teeth and worth its weight in eggs.

Congress won't convene in time to pass special anti-profiteering measures, so middlemen and retailers will make the most of shortages.

Diet your furnace. Feed it sparingly. Play safe, and lay in a reasonable amount of bituminous or coke. A little soot about the house or a burnt-out grate are lesser evils than flu or pneumonia.

Also, keep up the fight for government supervision of the industry. Otherwise, history will continue to repeat itself.

TO PAY OWN WAY WHILE IN U. S.

LONDON, Sept. 20.—One hundred thousand dollars was the figure offered Lloyd George by a lecture agency for a series of "talks" during his coming American trip.

But Lloyd George, partly because he wants a real sightseeing and pleasure trip and partly because he is apprehensive of the effects of a lecture tour upon his throat, has turned down the offer and will pay his own expenses.

Battle of the Straws

Editor Boston American:

Now that the straw hat season is ended, would it not be opportune for the police to issue a warning to the many hoodlums who find great pleasure in breaking these hats still worn by those deaf to the bell? It is a practice quite often leading to serious injury. J. H. REYNOLDS.

An Autoist's Problem

Editor Boston American:

A rich woman arrested for speeding claimed her speedometer was wrong. An expert said it was six miles slow. She admitted traveling eighteen miles an hour. This, plus six, makes twenty-four. She received a suspended sentence. A rich man's son was found guilty of speeding and was fined $10. I got fined $35 for traveling twenty-eight miles an hour. Had I been in an expensive car instead of a flivver, how much less would the fine have been? Why not change that former Ward question to "Can a rich person violate the speed law and not be fined for it?" EDWARD C.

Family of Vet in Need

Editor Helping Hand:

My husband is a cripple from wounds received in the late war, and he barely makes enough to feed us. I have an infant baby, and two little girls, one three and the other 4½. I am keeping my little orphan brother, aged eleven. Any clothes you could give us would be very greatly appreciated. My husband takes size 7 shoes and a 36 suit.

MRS. L. J. K.

Sent to Mrs. E. B.

Editor Helping Hand:

I have sent Mrs. E. B. a box of bedding and a few other things. I will now send them each a pair of shoes, but cannot supply them with all the clothes they need, and hope some other kind reader will help her out on children's clothes. I have a man's raincoat, size 38, that I would be glad to give to someone. MRS. H. F.

Thank you for your kindly interest in Mrs. E. B. I think she will get other help. The raincoat will be held for replies.

Mother of 5 in Need

Editor Helping Hand:

I saw by tonight's paper that you have helped someone in Maine, so I am asking help for a friend. She has five children, a boy ten and a girl eight, a boy six and a boy of three. She needs help very much as she cannot send the children to school for they don't have the clothes. Her husband is too old to work and is sick most of the time. They have a small farm, but cannot run it much as they have no money. I am the only one they have to help them and I have kept them in clothes the best I could, but I have three small children of my own and not much money coming. The children never know what Christmas was until I sent them a few toys. They were never sure of a roof over their heads until a few years ago when a son of the old man's by another wife was killed during the war and he received enough money to buy this run-down farm. Could you help them in clothes?

MRS. G. L. P.

Things for M. M.

Editor Helping Hand:

I have some house dresses size 38, a man's raincoat size 40, some aprons, and a lot of things that can be made over. I will take them to any person who would like to have them. Keep up the good work. MRS. J. B.

Thank you. You have been sent the address of M. M., who will be very grateful for these things. Next time you write, may we not have your full name instead of just the initials?

Children Need Clothes

Editor Helping Hand:

I have a sister whose husband has died and left her with three small children, a baby eighteen months old, a little girl three and a boy five. I am the only one to support her and the children by my work in a store. I would be very grateful if some kind reader could send me some clothes for the children.

GARRETT P. SERVISS ON THE NATURE OF LUCK

By Garrett P. Serviss

Famous Astronomer and Writer on Scientific Topics of Popular Interest.

THERE are things occurring at every card party, no less than at every gaming table, which to minds disposed to superstition, or indisposed to rationality, seem satisfactory evidence of the existence of a power that wilfully throws luck to some persons and keeps it from others. Monte Carlo is the typical combination of hades and paradise for these worshippers of the goddess Fortune, who is supposed to make mincemeat out of mathematics.

It is only because we deal with such small sections of infinite time that we fail to perceive the curvature of luck which makes it run, on the whole, equally in every direction. Travel around a race track and you "box the compass." Now you are going north, now east, now south, now west, and now north again. Just so luck travels around the great circle of unending time. Even a human lifetime may witness no noticeable or permanent curvature in the line of an individual's fortunes. The line seems straight, like the trajectory of a high-velocity bullet over a short range. But the principle of curvature is there, temporarily concealed, and, given time enough, must become evident.

It is generally conceded that, strategically, Waterloo was a battle won in advance of the fighting. The campaign that led up to it was a sweeping success. But at Waterloo it was the turn of tactics to reap the advantage which strategy had prepared the way for. And tactics failed because it called for physical efforts that the overwearied body and brain of Napoleon, weakened by illness, were not able to furnish.

The plan of the battle was just as triumphant in itself as had been the preceding campaign, but the caprices of fortune were no longer controlled by the master intelligence that had so often baffled them. The moral lesson is that man need not be a helpless victim of adverse luck, as long as he is capable of opposing his brain-power to it; in other words, the vagaries of luck cannot override intelligence, if the latter is kept wide awake.

HEROINES OF HISTORY

ABOUT CATHERINE DE MEDICI

By Mark Stuyvesant

AT Marseilles in 1533 one of the most splendid weddings of all time took place.

It was the marriage of a fourteen-year-old Italian girl to the Duke of Orleans, who afterward became King of France.

The Pope, her uncle, had conducted the child-bride-to-be from Italy to Marseilles, and had made her a wedding present of three hundred thousand pounds.

This quiet little girl, who had been brought up in a convent, was Catherine de Medici, the daughter of the famous Lorenzo de Medici, known as Lorenzo the Magnificent, the ruler of Florence.

When King Francis died, her husband became Henry II. Catherine was Queen and Henry was King, but it was Diane who ruled.

This, however, was suddenly ended when Henry was killed in a tournament.

Catherine became regent as the mother of Francis II. But Francis was sixteen, and married to Mary Queen of Scots, whom he adored, and whose influence over him was greater than his mother's. And Mary was under the domination of her uncles, the Cardinal of Lorraine and the powerful Duke de Guise.

Catherine's day had not come yet with these two figures in the background.

But her chance for power presented itself when Francis suddenly died, and Mary returned to Scotland.

France was in a pitiful state, torn with religious dissension between the Huguenots, under the leadership of Coligny and the Prince of Conde, and the Catholics under the Duke de Guise.

Catherine was the balance of power between the two parties, But instead of using it constructively and for the betterment of France, she utilized it only to further her own and her family's power.

So unwisely did she intrigue with both parties that the outcome was the horrible massacre of St. Bartholomew, when thousands of Huguenots were slain.

It is only her wickedness and policy of criminal methods for obtaining results which cause this woman's name to come down through history.

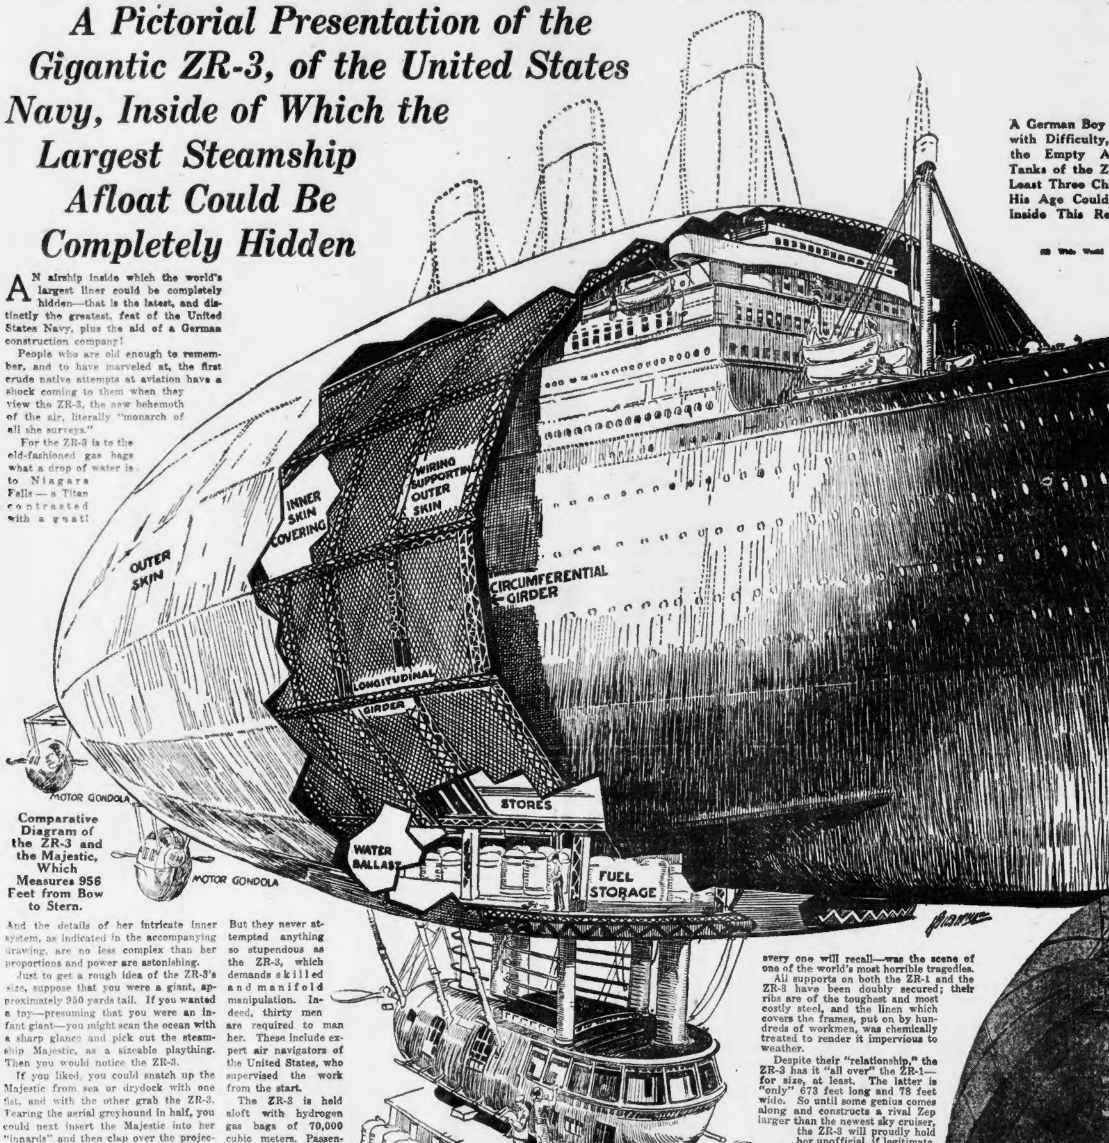
Our New German-Made Behemoth of the Air

A Pictorial Presentation of the Gigantic ZR-3, of the United States Navy, Inside of Which the Largest Steamship Afloat Could Be Completely Hidden

AN airship inside which the world's largest liner could be completely hidden—that is the latest, and distinctly the greatest, feat of the United States Navy, plus the aid of a German construction company!

People who are old enough to remember, and to have marveled at, the first crude native attempts at aviation have a shock coming to them when they view the ZR-3, the new behemoth of the air, literally "monarch of all she surveys."

For the ZR-3 is to the old-fashioned gas bags what a drop of water is to Niagara Falls—a Titan contrasted with a gnat!



Comparative Diagram of the ZR-3 and the Majestic, Which Measures 956 Feet from Bow to Stern.

And the details of her intricate inner system, as indicated in the accompanying drawing, are no less complex than her proportions and power are astonishing.

Just to get a rough idea of the ZR-3's size, suppose that you were a giant, approximately 950 yards tall. If you wanted a toy—presuming that you were an infant giant—you might scan the ocean with a sharp glance and pick out the steamship Majestic, as a sizeable plaything. Then you would notice the ZR-3.

If you liked, you could snatch up the Majestic from sea or drydock with one fist, and with the other grab the ZR-3. Tearing the aerial greyhound in half, you could next insert the Majestic into her "innards" and then clap over the projecting prow the other half of the great airship. And it would not be such a tight fit, either!

This may sound incredible, but statistics will prove it. The Majestic's length is 956 feet; her breadth is 100 feet, and her depth, from boat-deck to keel, is 102 feet.

The ZR-3 is 985 feet long and 131 feet deep at her central diameter. She has a breadth of about 125 feet. So, you see, the monster of the deep could be more than neatly fitted into the monster of the skies—with plenty of "breathing-space" left over!

The American Navy is proud—and justly—of her most recent step child, for Germany must be given the actual credit for the workmanship. The foreign company which undertook the colossal job is the Luftsschiffbau Zeppelin Gesellschaft, which is to say the Zeppelin Airship Construction Company. The scene of the construction was a secluded spot—though that seems rather a meagre word for so vast a project—on the shores of Lake Constance.

Lake Constance, as you can see by scrutinizing any map of Germany, is quite a large, irregularly shaped body of water in the southern part of that country. It is just across the border from what are known as the Alps of Algau, and the surrounding territory is not thickly populated.

As a matter of fact, the Germans probably chose this spot—Friedrichshafen is the unwieldy name of the town where the ZR-3 was built—for its seclusion. At all events, the Zeppelin manufactory there is declared by travelers who have seen it to be unsurpassed in technical equipment and natural facilities.

It was at this very manufactory that the Germans built their famous war Zeps. But they never attempted anything so stupendous as the ZR-3, which demands skilled and manifold manipulation. Indeed, thirty men are required to man her. These include expert air navigators of the United States, who supervised the work from the start.

The ZR-3 is held aloft with hydrogen gas bags of 70,000 cubic meters. Passenger apartments on the craft were modeled after the latest luxury that ingenuity could devise. There are neat and comfortable berths, an efficiently appointed and spotless kitchen, with real electric stoves, and even an adequate butler's pantry.

Five Maybach motors—the last word in German driving energy—propel the ZR-3. Its hold has a capacity of thirty-three tons of gasoline. In addition, gigantic ballast is provided for. There is ample room for drinking water and all the necessary food supplies.

But it is the speed-ability, rather than the mere eating-drinking-and-sleeping comfort, which makes the ZR-3 notable. She can attain, say her engineers, 80 miles an hour, and the trip between Friedrichshafen and New York City can be negotiated in 75 hours. This amounts to 3½ days, decidedly a swifter voyage than one could achieve, for example, on the speedy Majestic or speedier Leviathan.

An air monster similar to that which Germany has created for us is the ZR-1, a sister ship of the ZR-3. The former, however, came into being, not abroad, but in New Jersey. The stupendous frames, pictured on this page, were assembled at the Lakehurst Naval Station.

It may be written down as a significant bit of aviation history that every precaution was taken to prevent any accidents similar to that which befell the British-built ZR-2, when the River Hull—as every one will recall—was the scene of one of the world's most horrible tragedies.

All supports on both the ZR-1 and the ZR-3 have been doubly secured; their ribs are of the toughest and most costly steel, and the linen which covers the frames, put on by hundreds of workmen, was chemically treated to render it impervious to weather.

Despite their "relationship," the ZR-3 has it "all over" the ZR-1—for size, at least. The latter is "only" 673 feet long and 78 feet wide. So until some genius comes along and constructs a rival Zep larger than the newest sky cruiser, the ZR-3 will proudly hold her unofficial, if legitimate, title—the "Empress of the Clouds."

Medbury Says—

By John P. Medbury

A woman in a southern city is suing her husband for divorce because he made her sleep in the bathtub. His alibi is that he was just trying to drown his troubles.

SHE claims this is extreme cruelty but it would have been worse if he had made her stand up all night in a shower.

THE tub may have been chilly, but she could at least lie down.

SHE says she lost a lot of sleep because she had to stay awake so see that her husband didn't turn the water on.

JUST because her teeth were ivory that's no sign the rest of her would float.

SHE always used to go to sleep with a kitten in her arms. She finally had to sell the cat and buy a duck.

THE husband was even cruel to the duck. He sneaked into the bathroom in the middle of the night and let the water out of the tub.

FROM now on the wife nd the duck are going to have twin beds. She'll retire in the bathtub and the duck will sleep in the wash bowl.

WHEN she accepted him she expected to be in hot water a lot of the time, but she didn't dream she'd have to sleep in it.

SHE knew her husband was fond of water sports, but she didn't know that her sleeping in the bathtub was one of them.

SHE wondered why a bathing suit was included in her wedding trousseau.

HE gave her a pair of water wings to keep her from drowning, but he punctured them before he fastened them on her.

NOW IS THE TIME TO CHANGE IF YOU ARE GOING WRONG.

If you had your life to live over again you think you would do much differently than you have done.

At the same time you do not change the course you are following at the present time.

Ten years hence are you going to look back at the present time and regret that you did not make changes?

If you know you are steering indirectly, if you know that an effort on your part would make your life worth while why not be guided by the good judgment that is prompting you?

You know you are not making or taking opportunities to put yourself ahead and are not making as much of yourself as you might.

You realize that you should create opportunities for yourself, but that would necessitate effort and self-denial on your part, and you do not want to make the exertion.

Why live so that your last years will be vain regrets?
